Executive Director’s Message

Food for People is pleased to share the highlights of our accomplishments for fiscal year 2018-2019, which encompasses the period from October 1, 2018, through September 30, 2019. It represents our 40th year of service to our community, providing food assistance for an average of 12,000 individuals of all ages countywide each month. Although our main facility in Eureka serves as the hub for our operations, we connect with people at locations throughout Humboldt County with food distribution sites that extend from Garberville in the south to Orick in the north, and from Eureka on the coast to communities in the eastern corner of Humboldt County, including Hoopa, Weitchpec, and Dinsmore.

Our 18 programs include food assistance programs that address the unique needs of children and families through onsite, remote site, and home delivery options for seniors and people with disabilities. Each program has a proven track record and the majority have been in operation for 13 to 38 years. They include a network of 17 food pantries, a Mobile Produce Pantry, seasonal free produce distributions, a variety of nutrition education activities, and CalFresh outreach and application assistance. We also offer opportunities for student internships, community service, and job training programs for individuals enrolled in the WEX and CalWORKS programs. And our commitment to our role as advocates to change the landscape of hunger and poverty by addressing its root causes at the local, state, and federal levels has never been stronger. We work to inform community leaders and policymakers by sharing the personal stories and circumstances of the people we serve and create opportunities for ongoing dialogue.

Food for People’s belief in creative partnerships and collaborations and the role they play in creating resilient communities is always at the forefront, and we are tremendously grateful for the hundreds of community partners countywide who help make our important work possible. They include Family and Community Resource Centers, faith-based groups, nonprofit organizations, businesses, government entities, civic groups, schools, families, and interested individuals who work together and share limited resources to make our community a better place to live. And kudos to our dedicated, hardworking staff and volunteers who work side by side each and every day to serve people who are experiencing poverty and food insecurity, and doing so in an atmosphere of dignity and respect. Their efforts inspire and inform our work daily.

And last but certainly not least, we want to acknowledge the critical role that our financial supporters, food donors, and amazing volunteers play in our ability to provide quality services for individuals and households that are struggling financially. Their donations of time, money, food, and resources make it possible for us to help when needed most. We appreciate their continued support and their faith in our ability to operate our programs as efficiently and cost-effectively as possible.

In closing, I would like to extend our warmest thanks to all who are partnering with us on so many levels to create a stronger, healthier, and more resilient Humboldt County for all. We couldn’t be more grateful for your support!

With gratitude,

Anne Holcomb, Executive Director

History of Food for People, Inc.

Food for People first opened its doors in 1979 as a small food closet, designed to fill a void in the County’s social service programs. Our programs and services have grown and matured over the past 40 years, thanks to the generous support of the local community and the various grant-making foundations that have provided funding for new and existing projects.

Food for People is a member of the California Association of Food Banks and is designated as a partner distribution organization by Feeding America, a nationwide network of food banks. We are also members of the Northern California Association of Nonprofits, which helps to build and strengthen our focus on local partnerships and collaborations.

According to data provided through the California Health Interview Survey, Humboldt County has one of the highest rates of hunger and food insecurity statewide.

Federal and state contracts specific to the distribution of USDA and other purchased or donated foods, combined with grants and generous local donations, make it possible for us to provide food for more than 12,000 low-income children, seniors, people with disabilities, and other individuals each month.

The programs offered by Food for People are intended to serve as a safety net for those whose circumstances have left them at risk for hunger and food insecurity. Our goal is to provide individuals and households with the emergency and supplemental food they need while working to address the root causes of hunger in our county.

Food for People currently operates a total of 18 programs, each of which is designed to address the needs of those who are experiencing hunger and food insecurity.

Last year, Food for People distributed nearly 2 million pounds of food. An average of 304 volunteers per month donated 21,186 hours of their time last year—equivalent to 14 full-time staff positions.

Meeting the Need in Humboldt County

Our Countywide Food Pantry Network provides food for 17 pantries and two congregate meal programs (soup kitchens) located throughout Humboldt County. 33,620 households were served through all pantries last year. Food for People monitors each site, and provides technical assistance, as needed.

In addition, we also coordinate the direct distribution of food through our onsite Choice Pantry to an average of 1,238 households each month. The Choice Pantry style of food distribution invites people to select the foods they want and need, so none goes to waste. Last year we provided a total of 14,859 shopping trips in the Choice Pantry and an additional 3,350 Emergency Food Boxes.
The Senior Brown Bag Program provided 3,808 bags of groceries for an average of 317 low-income senior households county-wide each month. Volunteer drivers deliver bags to those who are unable to pick up their own food.

The Senior Commodity Supplemental Food Program for seniors provided 4,450 30-40 pound boxes of nutritious food monthly for an average of 371 program participants at six locations.

Our Homebound Delivery Program provided 473 bags of groceries to adults who are too ill or disabled to leave their homes. Some recipients are recovering from surgery, while others may be coping with a terminal illness. Referrals come from hospital discharge planners, social workers, home health workers, etc.
The Children’s Free Summer Lunch Program, also known as the Summer Food Service Program, distributed 12,559 lunches at 18 community sites in the summer of 2019. Free lunches are provided to low-income children whose families cannot afford the additional cost of the extra meals once school is out.

The Backpacks for Kids program provided 16,647 bags filled with kid-friendly food to local school children. Food was delivered every Friday during the school year for children who are considered at risk for hunger over the weekend. Last year, the program served 601 children at 36 schools.
Dollar Value of In-Kind Donations 2018-2019

Fresh & Healthy Foods

The Free Produce Markets distributed 107,514 lbs of fresh fruits and vegetables at 4 locations monthly, May through October, which served 2,416 households in the 2019 season.

The Mobile Produce Pantry served 6,597 households providing 96,359 lbs of fresh fruits and vegetables last year in remote communities of Humboldt County that lack access to fresh produce.

Food for People’s Local Food Resources efforts include:

A Gleaning Program, which accesses donated fresh local produce and meat from commercial farms, orchards, and ranches and encouraged backyard gardeners to “Plant a Row for the Hungry” - last year gleaning brought in 56,740 lbs of healthy local foods for those in need. And Food Drives through which community members donated 263,132 lbs of nonperishable food last year.
Food for People provides food to nearly 100 partner agencies across Humboldt County.

The Nonprofit Food Network invites local nonprofit organizations serving low-income individuals to access foods in our warehouse at a low, per pound cost.

Through the Local Store Food Recovery Program, our staff drives to area grocery, pharmacy, and health food stores to pick up excess food to help those experiencing hunger. Last year more than 1/4 million lbs of food were diverted from landfills.

Emergency Food & Disaster Program - when disasters strike Humboldt County, Food for People works with our network of federal, state, and local food resources to make food available to those experiencing hardship. Food for People is a member of our local chapter of COAD, Community Organizations Active in Disaster.

Food for People operates varied outreach programs that include:

Outreach

Nutrition Education efforts that provide demos, taste tests, recipes, and cooking classes for children and adults to teach them how to cook healthy meals on a budget.

CalFresh Outreach that offers assistance, including bilingual help, for working families and seniors countywide to help enroll them in CalFresh (formerly food stamps), and connect them with other services to help address the root causes of hunger and poverty.

Advocacy - Food for People works hard to advocate for policies and strategies that reduce poverty and hunger and support access to nutritious foods and good health.

The Work Readiness Program provides training for those struggling with poverty or unemployment to gain work experience so that everyone in our community can build a better life.
